

RICH MAN DEAD IN AN AREAWAY.

POLICE TRYING TO LEARN
HOW KOELLHOFFER DIED.

Parted with Friends at Banquet in Jolly Mood, and Found Far from Home.

(Special to The Evening World.)
NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 17.—Henry Koellhoffer, a wealthy clothier, was found dead in an areaway in the rear of No. 74 Park place today. No one can explain the cause of death as yet and no one has come forward to explain Mr. Koellhoffer's presence in that neighborhood.

His home was at No. 28 Nelson place, which is in the Hill district, in an opposite direction from the Orange Auditorium, where he attended the annual banquet of the Board of Trade last night. No marks of foul play could be found on the body and his valuables had not been disturbed.

According to those who attended the banquet, Koellhoffer left the Auditorium at an early hour. He was in a particularly happy frame of mind and laughed and joked from when he first arrived until he departed.

The house at No. 74 Park place is occupied by the two daughters of the late Stephen Condit and is in the most exclusive section of the city.

The police advance the theory that Mr. Koellhoffer decided to take a walk after leaving the banquet and strolled to this neighborhood, where he formerly had property, but what led him to go into the areaway in the rear of the Condit house is the puzzle.

Chief of Detectives Maguire has placed two men on the case, but will not give his reasons for doing so. The police deny that they suspect foul play.

The County Physician, after an autopsy, declared that while Koellhoffer had a fractured skull he died from exposure.

Mr. Koellhoffer was thirty-nine years old and wealthy. He was a partner in the firm of Koellhoffer & Bros., haters and clothiers, on Market street. He formerly owned the Park House, which was torn down to make way for a new theatre. His father, Theodore Koellhoffer, resides at No. 37 Thirtieth avenue.

CHIEF JUSTICE DEAD.

McColl, of Vancouver, Succumbs to Bright's Disease.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 17.—Chief Justice McColl died here last night during a convulsion. He had been suffering for some time with Bright's disease.

"AL" ADAMS'S BAIL
REDUCED TO $7,500

CONCESSION TO POLICY KING
BY JUSTICE FOSTER.

$2,500 Taken from the Former Amount—Attorney Asks to See
Grand Jury's Minutes.

Al Adams, the policy king and his sixteen confederates, were before Justice Foster, in Part I. of the Court of Special Sessions, today. Attorney Ridgway, on behalf of Adams, asked that the bail of $10,000 be reduced.

Assistant District Attorney Byrne said he had proof that Adams ran sixty policy shops and disorderly places in New York City and he saw no reason why the bail should be made any less.

Justice Foster announced that he would reduce the bail to $7,500. There were no changes made in the bail of the others. The decisions in the case were made at a recess from three to four o'clock.

Attorney Ridgway asked permission to file a paper asking for an inspection of the minutes of the grand jury that indicted Adams and his companions. He said the grand jury had heard the evidence yesterday and for that reason he wanted to look at the minutes. The decision on the application to see the minutes will be announced Jan. 24.

DR. KRAUSE'S
TRIAL IS ON.

EX-GOVERNOR ACCUSED OF INCITING MURDER.

Said to Have Been Cause of Killing of Lawyer John Douglas Foster.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The trial of Dr. Krause, the former Governor of Johannesburg, on the charge of inciting Cornelius Brocksman, the Public Prosecutor of Johannesburg (who was executed by the British authorities in South Africa), to murder John Douglas Foster, an English lawyer, who was on the staff of Lord Roberts, opened at the Old Bailey today.

If the prisoner and his friends had been suspected of a design to explode dynamite in the court the precautions against the admission of unauthorized persons could not have been more stringent. Every man was closely scrutinized and compelled to produce a card of admission.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty and the Solicitor-General, Sir Edward Henry Carson, proceeded to detail the facts already testified to in the police courts.

Overcoats and Suits Sacrificed.
Now that the lease is drawing to a close, Hammersmith Bros. have will further reduced the prices on their high class clothing stock at No. 830 Broadway. The special attraction for this week is the offer of their finest suits and overcoats at $25 each. Many of these are sample garments from the wholesale stock and unequalled in the mercantile tailoring department. Among the suits are beautiful black, tulle and blue velvet, fine English coverlets, a few of them silk-lined.

Advertise houses, homes and apartments for sale in the Sunday World.

BRIDE GAVE UP FORTUNE FOR LOVE.

Relatives Refuse to Receive Young Mrs. Brown, of Hackensack, Who Was Married Secretly.

MRS. WILLIAM BROWN.

(Special to The Evening World.)
HACKENSACK, N. J., Jan. 17.—Policeman William Brown and his bride, who was Miss Louise Kurzenkabe, and whom he married clandestinely because the father of the pretty young woman objected to the wedding, have returned here from their honeymoon trip and settled down in a nice dwelling on State street.

Both are popular, and to-day were receiving the congratulations of their many friends. Mrs. Brown seemed extremely happy, and apparently gave no thought to the fact that her marriage has deprived her of a good fortune.

Her father, J. Frank Kurzenkabe, who is quite wealthy, has decreed that she must never enter his home again, and he refuses to be reconciled. This means that unless he relents he will cut a his daughter, who should inherit the bulk of his property.

Her grandmother, whose special favorite she was and who intended to leave her all her money, has taken sides with the parents and has cut off communication with the young wife, so her money will go to some other relative.

Difference in religious belief was the cause of the opposition to the marriage. Brown is a Catholic and his wife a Protestant.

AMERICAN COUNTESS WILL GRACE FAMOUS OLD HOUSE.

Count de Talleyrand-Perigord, Who Married
Miss Helen Morton, Gets "Hotel de Sagan."

News comes from Paris that Count de Talleyrand-Perigord, who married Miss Helen Morton, daughter of Levi P. Morton, has received as a gift from his mother the famous "Hotel de Sagan," the finest private residence in the French capital.

This famous old mansion is situated in the heart of fashionable Paris. It was built nearly one hundred years ago by Hope, the eccentric, Anglo-English banker. It stands in spacious grounds and is surrounded by trees that are a century old.

When the grandfather of Count Talleyrand-Perigord bought the place forty years ago, it was found to be honeycombed with secret passages and chambers. Panels, which opened when springs were touched were all over the place, and many were cunningly concealed.

The dining-room contains a table at which 125 guests can be comfortably seated. The ball-room will hold one thousand persons without crowding, and for the last third of a century nearly every prominent visitor to Paris has been entertained there by the Duchess of Talleyrand, of Perigord and of Valençay, the mother of the husband of Miss Morton, and one of the most popular women in Paris.

Ex-Gov. Morton has given each of his daughters a home in this city, and soon after Miss Helen was married her husband bought back the famous old hotel of Valençay, which his mother had sold to Count Jean de Castellan. This estate has 1,200 acres, and the ownership of it entitles the holder, if a member of the family, to the title of Duke.

With the new home in Paris the handsome daughter of the New York financier and her titled husband are equipped for entertaining better than any other residents of the French capital. Miss Morton has an income of $100,000 a year from the wedding gift of her father.

SNAPS WHIP TO CALL HER.

A Former Damrosch Director Arrested for Non-Support of Wife.

"My husband would not call me by name, but when he wanted me would either snap a whip or whistle," was the reason given by Mrs. Amelia Held in Yorkville court today why she would not live with her husband, Carl Held.

Both are musicians. Held lives at No. 26 East Twenty-eighth street. His wife lives at No. 223 East Eighteenth street.

He was at one time director for Walter Damrosch.

"You must support your wife," said Magistrate Mayo.

"I won't," replied Held. "Unless she lives with me."

It was finally agreed that Held shall pay $3 a week toward his wife's support.

WHERE THE MILLIONS MEET—
The Want Pages of the Sunday
World every Sunday.

NO GOOD GREEN TO HER 20-TO-1 SHOT

SO PRETTY MRS. HARPELL
APPEALS TO THE COURTS.

Bids Good-By to Winnings, but Wants Commissioner to Return Her Bet.

Magistrate Mayo had before him in Yorkville court today Charles Lenz, twenty-six years old, of No. 262 Prospect avenue, the Bronx. Mrs. Lillian Harpell, of No. 160 West Sixty-fourth street, charged him with withholding her out of $10.

Mrs. Harpell, who is young and attractive, plays the race, as she told the Magistrate, and Lenz has been acting as her commissioner in placing bets. The specific charge is for keeping $10 of her money which she entrusted to him to place on the horse "Pat Morrissey," which ran in a race at San Francisco on Tuesday at 20 to 1, and won.

"When I read in the papers that Pat had won," she told the Hon. "I congratulated myself and thought I had got back some of the good green I have lost lately."

"Why, Judge, I've dropped $1,000 in the seven years I've been playing the game."

Magistrate Mayo paroled Lenz on his own recognizance till Monday, when a further hearing will be had.

CONCERT HALL TO COURT.

Samuel Koller Accused of Stealing
Money Given Him for Bail.

Further evidence in the case of Samuel Koller, an old-time concert hall keeper, who married the daughter of "Mother" Mandelbaum, one of the most notorious "fences" New York has had, was heard today.

Koller was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Newburger in General Sessions, charged with grand larceny. Della McCarthy was complainant.

Della says that she gave Koller $300 to secure a bondsman for her brother Tom, who is known as an expert "badger." Koller took the money, the girl says, but failed to get the bondsman.

Count Gianbortio Gulinelli, of Italy, will be married next Monday to Miss Blanche J. Schweizer, daughter of Joseph Schweizer, of No. 10 West Seventeenth street. The wedding will be attended by few guests owing to the death of the father of the Count, which occurred recently.

Miss Schweizer met Count Gulinelli at a ball three years ago in Rome, and four months later their engagement was announced. The Count arrived here last Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from Bremen. Miss Schweizer met him at the pier. He speaks but little English. When at home he is known as an automobile enthusiast and has a car of his own.

Father Taylor will perform the ceremony at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, after which a Truax of the Supreme Court will perform a civil marriage ceremony.

There will be an informal dinner party at the home of the bride's parents, to which about thirty have been invited. After having spent six months in the United States the Count and Countess will go to Paris where they will make their home.

SUES FOR DIVORCE;
PLEADS POVERTY.

PLAYWRIGHT DONNELLY IS DEPENDENT ON FRIENDS.

Answer He Makes to Wife's Application for Alimony and
Counsel Fees.

Opposing S. H. Evans's motion for alimony and $200 counsel fees for Blanche M. Donnelly, heretofore to defend herself against the suit of her husband, Justice Dugro today said that Henry Donnelly, the playwright, was ill, penniless and dependent on his friends.

Mr. Donnelly is said to be suffering from nervous prostration.

An affidavit signed by Donnelly states that his wife is not entitled to any consideration from the court for the reason that she is now living openly with the correspondent, Frederick H. Rolfe, who is the civil engineer of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad.

The Donnelly's lived at Richmond Hill, Staten Island, and the playwright sued and lost in Richmond county two years ago. An appeal was denied against him.

The present suit is brought on charges that Mrs. Donnelly, since the former trial, has lived continuously with Rolfe.

"I order his bond forfeited, and will place a bench warrant for his arrest in the hands of competent officers, whom I hope will find him in short order."

George H. Orange, of No. 20 East Broadway, was McGurk's bondsman.

Evening World reporters traced the notorious McGurk after his flight to a little hotel in Jersey City. He said that he would never return to New York and that sentence would never be passed upon him if he could avoid it. At last accounts he was still in Jersey City, liberally supplied with money.

TUNNEL VICTIM'S WILL FILED

Supt. William Leys Left $25,000
to His Widow.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The will of William Leys, of New Rochelle, one of the victims of the New York Central tunnel disaster, was filed for probate here today. The testator left an estate of $25,000, all of which is bequeathed to his widow, Jennie Marie Leys.

Leys was superintendent for J. M. Leys & Co. of New York. Besides the widow he left three sons and a daughter.

It is said to be the finest collection in the world.

DEAN'S GIFT TO MUSEUM.

Famous Strecker Collection of 100,000 Butterflies.

The American Museum of Natural History has been enriched by the famous Strecker collection of butterflies.

NEW YORK GIRL IS SOON TO BE A COUNT'S BRIDE.

Miss Blanche
Schweizer
Miss Schweizer Soon to Wed
Count Gulinelli Whom She Met Abroad.

Count Gianbortio Gulinelli, of Italy, will be married next Monday to Miss Blanche J. Schweizer, daughter of Joseph Schweizer, of No. 10 West Seventeenth street. The wedding will be attended by few guests owing to the death of the father of the Count, which occurred recently.

Miss Schweizer met Count Gulinelli at a ball three years ago in Rome, and four months later their engagement was announced. The Count arrived here last Tuesday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from Bremen. Miss Schweizer met him at the pier. He speaks but little English. When at home he is known as an automobile enthusiast and has a car of his own.

Father Taylor will perform the ceremony at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, after which a Truax of the Supreme Court will perform a civil marriage ceremony.

There will be an informal dinner party at the home of the bride's parents, to which about thirty have been invited. After having spent six months in the United States the Count and Countess will go to Paris where they will make their home.

SUES FOR DIVORCE;
PLEADS POVERTY.

PLAYWRIGHT DONNELLY IS DEPENDENT ON FRIENDS.

Answer He Makes to Wife's Application for Alimony and
Counsel Fees.

Opposing S. H. Evans's motion for alimony and $200 counsel fees for Blanche M. Donnelly, heretofore to defend herself against the suit of her husband, Justice Dugro today said that Henry Donnelly, the playwright, was ill, penniless and dependent on his friends.

Mr. Donnelly is said to be suffering from nervous prostration.

An affidavit signed by Donnelly states that his wife is not entitled to any consideration from the court for the reason that she is now living openly with the correspondent, Frederick H. Rolfe, who is the civil engineer of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad.

The Donnelly's lived at Richmond Hill, Staten Island, and the playwright sued and lost in Richmond county two years ago. An appeal was denied against him.

The present suit is brought on charges that Mrs. Donnelly, since the former trial, has lived continuously with Rolfe.

"I order his bond forfeited, and will place a bench warrant for his arrest in the hands of competent officers, whom I hope will find him in short order."

George H. Orange, of No. 20 East Broadway, was McGurk's bondsman.

Evening World reporters traced the notorious McGurk after his flight to a little hotel in Jersey City. He said that he would never return to New York and that sentence would never be passed upon him if he could avoid it. At last accounts he was still in Jersey City, liberally supplied with money.

TUNNEL VICTIM'S WILL FILED

Supt. William Leys Left $25,000
to His Widow.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The will of William Leys, of New Rochelle, one of the victims of the New York Central tunnel disaster, was filed for probate here today. The testator left an estate of $25,000, all of which is bequeathed to his widow, Jennie Marie Leys.

Leys was superintendent for J. M. Leys & Co. of New York. Besides the widow he left three sons and a daughter.

It is said to be the finest collection in the world.

DEAN'S GIFT TO MUSEUM.

Famous Strecker Collection of
100,000 Butterflies.

The American Museum of Natural History has been enriched by the famous Strecker collection of butterflies.

When Jackson Says It's a Sale—It Is a Sale

Jackson's Distinctive (Semi-Annual)

1/3 Off Sale

This edict is absolute. Our past record is your present guarantee. A claim of value-giving at Jackson's is as true and strict as law itself.

This distinctive 1/3 off reduction sale illustrates clearly and decisively the bargain breadth and liberal scope of a Jackson sale.

1/3 off is at your disposal on any and every garment we own.

As to Suits & Overcoats

$10 with 1/3 off.... 6.67 | $15 with 1/3 off.... 10.00

$20 with 1/3 off.... 13.34 | $25 with 1/3 off.... 16.67

Neckwear, 18c and 42c

An example of the men's furnishing price cutting during our sale. All of our extra exclusive neckwear made after our own designs and for our special trade, actual selling price of which was 45c, 65c, 95c and 1.45. We have made two bona fide lots..... 18c and 42c

S. M. JACKSON,

Formerly Maduro Bros. & Co.,
112-114 NASSAU STREET.

READ THIS VERSE ON

Every Bottle of Which is MADE and BOTTLED in ENGLAND.

By May Cavanagh, 51 West 10th St., New York.

"Lay on Macduff,
And damned be he who cries, 'Hold! Enough!'"

These words, you must admit, of course.
Referred to HOLBROOK'S Worcestershire Sauce.

Horace De Lissar, Agent U. S. and Canada, 90-92 West Broadway, New York.

MIXTURE EXPLODED IN CHEMIST'S HAND

MONTESE BLOWN HALF
ACROSS HIS STORE.

Then Fire Started and the Stock
Was Demolished, but Building Was Saved.

Max Montese, a druggist at Fifty-seventh street and First avenue, was mixing a lot of drugs in a mortar this morning and the mixture exploded.

Montese was blown half across the store and a sheet of flame shot through the door. Other chemicals ignited and Montese barely got out before the whole store was aflame.

Some one out on the street hearing the explosion and seeing the fire turned in an alarm. The firemen responded and saved the building, but the interior of the store was entirely demolished. Montese was badly burned, but refused to go to the hospital.

NEW LIFE GIVEN TO DEAD STATUTE.

MAN CONVICTED OF INTER-FERING WITH WITNESS.

Law Long Been a Dead Letter, but Fennel Is Sentenced to Penitentiary.

For the first time in the history of the Criminal Courts Building a conviction was secured today in the case of a man charged with interfering with witnesses in a criminal proceeding. The law covering this offense has long been a dead letter.

George Fennel is the name of the victim. During the trial of a woman accused of robbery early in December Fennel, buttonholed witnesses in the corridor and over in the courtroom in an attempt to persuade them not to testify. Judge McMahon learned of it and caused Fennel's arrest.

He was indicted and tried today. It was held by the Court that his offense was a misdemeanor and he was sent to the Penitentiary for six months.

CANTOR LOVES CITY HALL.

Rejects All Suggestions that a New One Be Built.

Borough President Cantor has received several letters from citizens who suggest that instead of renovating the City Hall what the city should do is to tear the building down and put up another and more modern structure adequate to the city's present needs.

"While I am President of the borough," said Mr. Cantor today, "this old building shall not be touched except by the cleaners and decorators. I favor the old City Hall and have nothing in accord with those persons who want this historic building torn down."

PORTIA KNIGHT'S $10,000.

Manchester Gives Check, Amount of Which Is in Dispute.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Miss Portia Knight, actress, has so far made the southern Duke of Manchester recognize her claims on him for breach of promise as to receive from him a good-sized check. Her friends say it is for $10,000, but the Duke's solicitors say $5,000. It is believed that they are minimizing a bit to avoid arousing Manchester's creditors. It is believed that the Dowager Duchess furnished the money.

GO TO MISS STONE
WITH THE RANSOM

DR. PEET AND GARGIOLU
HOPE TO FIND HER ALIVE.

Start Is Made for the Bulgarian Frontier to Rescue Missionary and Companion.

SALONICA, Macedonia, Jan. 17.—Gargiolu, the chief dragoman of the American Legation in Constantinople, and the Rev. Dr. Peet, Secretary of the American Mission, have left Serres for the Bulgarian frontier, taking the ransom with them, in the hope of soon securing the release of Miss Stone and Mrs. Tsikla.

ROUGH-RIDER ATTACKED.

Earl Percy Assails Col. Lynch, Who Initiated Col. Roosevelt.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The American colony is discussing the case of Col. Arthur Lynch, the Irish Rough Rider, who was attacked by Earl Percy in the House of Commons in a speech yesterday. The Earl moved that the election from Galway of Col. Lynch, who was commonly and notoriously reported to have aided the King's enemies, was an insult to the House. He asked for a committee to consider the matter.

Col. Lynch was the organizer of a regiment modeled after the Rough Riders to fight on the Boer side.

SAY POPE IS NOT DYING.

Catholics in Authority Allege Due Warning Must Have Been Given.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—No credence is given here to reports of the Pope's serious illness. The Apostolic Delegation has not been advised. It is stated on authority that news that he is dying will be sent throughout Christendom in time to permit the prayers of the faithful for his happy death.

Help Wanted—Female.

SEWING WOMAN WANTED, 7 to 12 A. M. wages $3.50 weekly; must live near office. 635 West 94th St. Apply 19 to 21 Broadway morning.